TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — Officers in two states continued to man roadblocks today for three escapees from the Miller County jail here — one awaiting trial for murder.

Sheriff Rudy Burgess reported the breakout Sunday of Jerrell Marlar, 32, of Rosston, Charles Casley, 20, of Texarkana; and Melvin Simmons, 41, whose address was not given.

Burgess said the trio made their escape by clubbing jailer Bill Arterbury with a sock containing a bar of soap.

Arterbury was not seriously injured. Although few clues to their whereabouts were given, the roadblocks were maintained Sunday in southwest Arkansas and northwest Texas. An alert for the men was issued in Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas and Louisiana.

Marlar was being held in the county jail awaiting trial for the slaying of Donald O. Bond of Boosier City, La., whose body was found in a ditch two months ago near Fouke, Ark.

Marie Derr, who was with Marlar when he was arrested, currently is undergoing psychiatric examination at the State Hospital in Little Rock.

Arterbury said he was attacked as he brought the prisoners their breakfast. The escape was effected by the men leaping from a second story courtroom window.

John Satterwhite, a cook at the jail, said he was threatened by the men but fled and locked himself in a room where he notified the sheriff.

Walter Bowden, 46, of Rocky Mountain, N. C., was shot accidentally Sunday when officers mistook him and two other men for the escapees.

Bowden was hospitalized at Texarkana.

A train, en route to Shreveport, was halted by police who searched it after it was rumored they might be aboard.

Union Cited by National Labor Board

WASHINGTON (AP) — A labor union is about to be charged for the first time in the 27-year history of the National Labor Relations Act with racial discrimination in refusing to process a Negro worker's grievance.

Stuart Rothman, general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, announced today he has authorized the Houston, Tex., NLRB office to issue a formal complaint based on charges brought by a Negro worker employed at the Hughes Tool Co., Houston.

Rothman said the complaint will be lodged against Local 1, Independent Metal Workers Union, an unaffiliated union. He said Local 1 is made up of white employees while Local 2 is composed of Negro employees. The two locals are the joint bargaining agent for Hughes Tool Co. employees.

The basis of the complaints, Rothman said, is that Local 1 has refused to process a grievance in behalf of Ivory M. Davis, a metal handler employed by Hughes since 1942 and treasurer of Local No. 2.

Davis complained the company refused to consider his application for the company apprenticeship program to train for the better-paying job of machinist and toolmaker. Davis charges that Local 1 has refused to represent him.

Reds Reject Partial Test Ban

By DORIAN FALK

GENEVA (AP) — A Soviet spokesman today rejected proposals for a partial nuclear test ban treaty even as Swedish scientists reported the Soviets have set off a new atmospheric blast in their current testing series.

A treaty that would ban all but underground tests "will not settle the problem," the spokesman told reporters before the opening of the 72nd session of the 17-nation disarmament conference.

The idea of a half-way treaty has been advanced by Brazil, Sweden and Italy because the nuclear powers are deadlocked on methods of enforcing a ban on underground testing. Their idea is to stop atmospheric tests without delay in order to ease fallout dangers.

Swedish scientists reported the test in the Soviet Arctic proving grounds was in the range of 12 megatons, the equivalent of 12 million tons of TNT. It is the fourth recorded by Sweden in the current series.

There was no mention of the Swedish reports as the delegates assembled and heard Chief Soviet Delegate Vasily Kuznetsov assert his government "will do everything possible to come to speedy agreement to end all nuclear weapons tests."

Conference sources said he made no reference to the possibility of the partial treaty rejected by his spokesman. But he laid stress on the words "all tests."

Sir Michael Wright of Britain replied that the United States and Britain had agreed to cut their request for 20 annual on-site inspections to 12 and now were ready to agree to an even smaller number.

India urged that U.S. Delegate Arthur H. Dean and Kuznetsov, the conference cochairmen, begin discussing questions to govern on-site inspections.

Conference sources said Dean and Kuznetsov accepted India's suggestion.

Two automobile accidents in this area were investigated by police over the weekend.

About 10:30 p.m. Saturday a car driven by Gerline Morris, 30-year-old Negro, sideswiped with another auto on Highway 4, near the Hempstead - Nevada County line. Morris' arm was badly smashed. He was given treatment here and sent to the University Hospital at Little Rock. Nobody else was injured. Driver of the second car could not be learned immediately.

About 12:30 a.m. Sunday an auto driven by Larry Powell, 19, of Patmos was traveling too fast to negotiate the curve at the end of South Main, on Highway 29. The vehicle knocked down a big sign at Carver's Store, hit a telephone pole and careened off into two large pine trees before stopping.

City Officers Rowe and Clark charged Powell with reckless driving. He sustained a back injury and was taken to a local hospital for treatment. The car was demolished.

Leaders Hold Workshop on Education

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) Delegates to the Leaders Workshop Conference of the Arkansas Education Association were told Saturday that preparing persons to assume their responsibilities of citizenship is more critical in a Democracy than in any other social order.

The speaker was Dr. Wesley Ketz, a Batesville physician. Ketz said high-quality education was needed to develop individuals who could meet the unprecedented problems of today.

He said this can only be obtained with high-quality teachers and schools.

Ketz also told the delegates that the state constitution should be amended to require the state treasurer to transfer annually from the public school fund to the teacher retirement system enough money to keep the system on a sound basis.

The delegates also heard Dr. Kark Berns of Washington, an assistant executive director of the National Education Association declare that the American education system is not inferior to that of Russia.

About 350 state educators attended the final session of the workshop, held at Arkansas State Teachers College.

52 Betting Stamps Sold in Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Internal Revenue Service said Saturday there have been 52 wagering stamps sold in Arkansas for the fiscal year beginning July 1. The stamp is an occupational tax costing $50 a year. Those who buy the stamps later in the year pay a prorated cost.

During the fiscal year ending June 30 the IRS sold 136 such stamps in the state for $7,746. Excise taxes collected on wagers, the IRS said, amounted to $92,435 last year.

Hot Springs listed in the sales, with 25 persons listed as buyers. It was followed by Little Rock with 10, Helena and West Helena with 7, Fort Smith with 6, North Little Rock, 5 and Greenbrier, Harrison and Marshall each with one.

Where stamps are bought by business partners, both names are listed.

Wolverton Mt. Day is Observed

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP) — It was "Wolverton Mountain Day" in Morrilton Saturday, and Clifford Clowers, portrayed in the western song "Wolverton Mountain" as a man mighty handy with a knife and gun, stowed himself a most amiable person.

Clowers is portrayed as a man on the campus at Southeast Missouri State College at Cape Girardeau, Mo. Among the teachers comique of a young man working plying the course was Nancy to see his girl.

Saturday, Clowers was a smiles as music lovers gathered into Lucas Stadium to hear enter-tainers, including Merl Kilgore of Nashville Tenn. who conceived the song.

Proceeds from events of the day went to Clowers, who received no royalty from the song.

Wolverton Mountain is about 30 miles north of Morrilton.

Cotton Crop Hurt Some by Intense Heat

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The July estimate of a 1962 Arkansas cotton crop of 550,000 pounds may be slightly reduced by extremely hot weather and the lack of rain during the past three weeks, the Agricultural Extension Service said today.

The service said that the hot weather would advance harvest of the crop by about one week, but would cut the yield to about 500 pounds per acre.

This one-half-per-acre yield, the service said, is about normal for Arkansas.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at Little Rock said that in the central portion of the state this is one of the driest Augusts on record.

Thus far in Little Rock there has been .16 inches of rain recorded, the driest August here in history, the Bureau said, was 1902 when only .19 inches was recorded during the entire month.

Other dry Augusts have come in 1946, with .27 inches; 1943 with .40, and 1954 with .33.

The Bureau said complete records on rainfall at various stations in the state are not immediately available. The Northwest portion of the state appears to have had the most precipitation and the southeast, with no rain in over two weeks, the least.

Little Rock hasn't had rain since Aug. 2 and Sunday the temperature reached a record 105. Fort Smith also had a 105 reading.

Temperatures were expected to climb to near that level again today in the state.

The Extension Service said that two other major crops being affected by the lack of rain are rice and soybeans.

Normally at this time of year rice farmers can ease off on irrigation of fields and divert water to soybeans. This year, they have had to pump water continuously into the rice fields because of the high rate of evaporation and let the soybeans do with a minimum of water.

The first bale of cotton was ginned two weeks ago from the Cummins Prison farm. Since then picking has been done mostly by hand in the state.

The service said that most truck crops have been harvested as have most fruits.

Angry Berlin Youths Defy Order and Hurl Stones at Red Guards

Wants Six Justices Impeached

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rev. M. L. Moser Jr. said today he will send petitions bearing 5,477 names asking for impeachment of six U. S. Supreme Court Justices to Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of Kensett.

Moser, pastor of Central Baptist Church here, said the petitions ask that the six justices who voted the high tribunal's recent prayer decision be removed from the court.

The ruling declared prescribed prayers in schools unconstitutional.

Moser said he already has sent petitions bearing 5,101 signatures to Mills, but the pastor said he has not heard from Mills since the petitions were mailed.

At Fort Smith evangelist, Rev. Braxton B. Sawyer, says he has obtained over 30,000 letters appealing for the impeachment of the six justices.

Sawyer said he asked for listeners of his radio broadcast in Fort Smith to write for the impeachment of the justices.

Moser said the second series of petitions, to be mailed today, bring the total of signatures to 10,548. He said Rev. W. A. Blount, pastor of Sylvan Hills Community Church in North Little Rock, aided in gathering the signatures.

Moser said most of the names were from Pulaski County, but some were taken from out in the state, and at least 20 petitions were from persons living outside Arkansas.

"At the beginning," Moser said, "we did not object to the decision itself, outlawing prescribed, pre-written, formal prayers."

"But now we are concerned over the precedent, through which later rulings will be judged. We fear it will be extended to eliminate all forms of prayer and other religious services."

Officials identified the pilot only as Keuhl. Names of his three passengers were not available.

Viet Rebels Survice All Out Offense

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Hard-core Viet Cong guerrillas, following military tactics which won China and North Viet Nam for communism, have survived a massive government offensive in the southern swamps.

For four days crack government troops, supported by U.S. Marine Corps helicopters, fighter planes and armored river craft, rolled across Ca Mau Peninsula seeking 2,000 Communist guerrillas who have turned it virtually into a little Communist state.

The government high command is arguing with American advisers over the tally of Viet Cong dead: The government claims 124, the Americans 60. The Viet Cong main body got away again.

The four-day operation was the brainchild of Gen. Paul D. Harkins, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam and Thailand. Harkins and his high command worked on the planning for three months and were highly optimistic when it got under way.

U.S. advisers now are thumbing ruefully through communist guerrilla textbooks which say, "When the enemy attacks retreat."

Communist guerrillas in Ca Mau, faced with an overwhelming government force, just disappeared into the mangrove swamps with their women and children.

As exhausted government troops pulled out, the Reds applied another guerrilla law, "Attack when the enemy is tired."

Government columns moving out of the swamps met frequent ambushes but the Communist firepower came from inaccurate old muzzle loaders and shotguns. Government dead at operation's end totaled four.

Spotter aircraft hovering over the region early Sunday saw black-clad guerrilla patrols moving back into the blackened and devastated training camps and hamlets.

Murderers, Swine Called at Communists

By CARL HARTMAN

BERLIN (AP)—Furious young West Berliners hurled stones at a bus full of Soviet soldiers again today as it sped through the city carrying a change of the guard to a war memorial. Some bus windows were broken.

A crowd of about 400 shook fists and shouted "swine" and "murderers" as the bus passed. West Berliners have been stirred to hot anger by the shooting of a refugee at the wall Friday and the fact that he lay dying in plain sight just out of reach of the West.

After bus stonings on previous days, West Berlin police gave the bus today a heavy escort — sedans, a radio truck and two trucks of alert police. But youngsters with their pockets full of rocks were able to get within 30 yards of the bus.

The Soviet soldiers did not reply to the attack, nor could any reaction be seen on their faces.

It was the third day in a row that Soviet vehicles have been attacked by young West Berliners. The buses are an easy target because they come through Checkpoint Charlie, the crossing point on the wall for non-German vehicles, every evening between 5:30 and 6 p.m.

Tonight's bus arrived at 5:30 p.m., and the crowd was there to meet it.

The attack occurred despite an order from Mayor Willy Brandt to West German police to crack down hard on rioters as a result of wild weekend demonstrations which saw Americans as well as Soviets attacked.

East and West Berlin police also were involved in the melee. Brandt appealed for calm in a radio speech.

Thousands of angry West Berliners marched, shouted and threw stones at Soviets, Americans, the wall, East German border guards and their own police Sunday.

Judge slingshots were used to hurl tear gas grenades from the Communist side.

The rioting was to protest shooting by East Berlin border guards of a young refugee trying to escape Friday. He was left to die slowly on the East side of the wall while American troops and West police watched from the

Consider Ways to Break Vote Tie

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Pulaski County Democratic Committee said today it may consider, at a 1 p.m. meeting, ways of breaking a tie vote between L. D. Boyer and Robert J. Kirsper for fourth ward alderman.

The tie came about Saturday in a recount sought by Boyer. Boyer had trailed by only 17 votes in the primary runoff. At the end of the recount he led by one vote. But Beloit Taylor had said if there was less than a five-vote difference absentee ballots would be rechecked in all precincts.

Three were found placed in the wrong boxes, Taylor said Saturday. Two were for Kirsper and one for Boyer, throwing the race into a tie.

Principal purpose of the meeting today was to certify results of the primary runoff last Tuesday. A committee spokesman said the final outcome of the aldermanic tie might be determined by more absentee boxes, but a court order would be necessary before they could be opened.

Both Boyer and Kirsper have said they would abide by the decision of the committee.

Why is it so much easier to buy on time than to pay on time?

Atom Power Merchant Ship Ready

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

ABOARD NUCLEAR SHIP SAVANNAH (AP)—This 22,000-ton vessel—the world's first known atomic-powered merchant ship—shoves off today on a maiden voyage which signals the opening of a new era in commercial passenger and cargo hauling on the high seas.

The 2½-day voyage from historic Yorktown, Va., to Savannah, Ga., also will mark an American advance in the technological race with the Soviet Union. The Soviets have built a nuclear-powered icebreaker, but their plans to enter the nuclear-powered merchant ship field are believed to be still in the blueprint stage.

The Savannah is not expected to enter regular commercial service for about a year and a half. Meantime it will make demonstration trips and possibly take on some paying passengers for trips between American ports.

Atomic Energy Commission officials said the vessel is not expected to operate at a profit because it is the first ship of its kind "and costs of such a prototype are necessarily high."

The ship was named in honor of the 320-ton sailing vessel with auxiliary steam power that first crossed the Atlantic in 1819 using steam power part of the way.

Although the Savannah has undergone previous sea trials, the present trip marks her first excursion to a regular commercial port.

The ship has vast capabilities. With a single fueling of its mammoth atomic furnace, it could cruise for 3½ years, for a distance of 300,000 miles—much farther than the distance between the earth and the moon.

It is fueled by 17,000 pounds of uranium oxide, the power equivalent of 90,000 tons of fuel oil.

The ship's designed speed is 20 knots—about 23 statute miles per hour—but she already has done up to 24 knots in trials off Yorktown.

Representatives of the Atomic Energy Commission and the U.S. Maritime Administration of the Department of Commerce were all smiles before sailing time. The two government agencies jointly developed the Savannah, which is operated for the government by States Marine Lines.

"At least a dozen nations in Europe, including Russia, are planning to build nuclear-powered

Maj. Gen. Albert Watson, the U.S. commandant, disclosed the Soviet command had refused an invitation to discuss the increased tension with American, British and French commandants at U.S. headquarters. Watson had offered to lift a ban on the Soviet commandant visiting the U.S. sector.

Young West Berliners — best available estimates put their number at about 5,000—rioted into the early morning hours.

A young redhead, who was not identified, spoke through the loudspeaker of a West Berlin police truck. The truck was escorted by about 500 demonstrators from West Berlin's City Hall down Kurfuerstendamm, the city's main street. Hundreds of cars followed, tooting their horns.

Honking cars appeared near Checkpoint Charlie, at U.S. headquarters and at Bernauerstrasse—the border street where many refugees have leaped to the street, some to their deaths.

It was nearly midnight, and the young man asked the demonstrators to go home for the night. Some did. Others went back toward the border, shouting, "The wall must go."

There have been demonstrations in West Berlin every day since Friday, when police of the East German Communist regime shot an 18-year-old refugee as he was climbing the wall. He fell back on the Communist side, mortally wounded.

For almost an hour the boy lay there. Nobody came to help.

Many Berliners were indignant at the American forces in Berlin. Their major post on the wall, Checkpoint Charlie, is only 200 yards from the site on the incident. Many West Berliners felt the Americans should have given the wounded youth medical aid.

Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II, the U.S. commandant in Berlin, protested to the Russians. He told the West Berliners, through an official spokesman, that the U.S. mission shared their sense of outrage and frustration.

Demonstrations Saturday and Sunday morning were dampened

Space Center Strike Is Resumed

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—A strike at the Marshall Space Flight Center apparently resumed today when workers, after returning to their jobs briefly walked off again.

A spokesman for the flight center, heart of much of the nation's missile and space development work, said.

"Although the federal district court has enjoined the strike, virtually all the Local 558 International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers members expected to resume work failed to appear at construction sites."

"The few members who did return by rain. Still the marchers, most of them young men and women, managed to break the windows of a Soviet bus and unfurl some anti-American banners."

Sunday afternoon the sun came out, bringing thousands of young people into the street. Stones and bottles shattered more Soviet bus windows. American cars and jeeps were jeered. Despite an official denial, eyewitnesses insisted that Americans were stoned, too.

Newport to Vote on City Manager

NEWPORT, Ark. (AP)—Newport residents will go to the polls Tuesday to decide whether they want a mayor-council or city manager form of government.

The vote was called after a petition was presented the city council. The city now has the mayor-council form of government.

Opponents of the change over held a meeting Friday night on the measure. Proponents have scheduled a meeting at the courthouse tonight.

port had not begun work at 10 a.m.

"A majority of other skills involved in the strike did report to work sites, although some of those reporting started to work, most of them have by now left construction sites."

The Marshall spokesman was asked if operations at the space center were again at a standstill. He replied: "It would appear so."

The strike had lasted a week. Nearly 1,500 workers employed by private contractors were under a federal court order to end their walkout.

The strike was called in protest against a handful of non-union electricians on one job.

ELECTRICITY—THE BIG VALUE!

So easy...so comfortable...so much a part of your enjoyment of summer that you hardly think of it as a service, but more as an accessory to the pattern of living you have established!

You know all too well how refreshing your air-conditioned home has been during the hot days... how handy it has been to have the freshly laundered clothes summer activities call for. And the whole family is aware of the refreshing iced drinks, the crisp salads, the easy-to-digest summertime foods that show up all through the season.

That's the summertime pattern of modern living everywhere... a greater dependence on electricity than at any other time in the year. That's why, if you check the kilowatt-hours of service on your power bill, you'll probably see quite a jump compared to a few months ago. But honestly now—can you think of a bigger value, when it comes to the comforts of life, than electricity offers?

Wants U. S. Education Commission

By FELIX B. WOLD

DETROIT (AP)—An educator proposed today that a federal commission be created to plan this government's future role in education in order to cope with immense world changes.

Dr. Herold C. Hunt, Harvard University's Elliot professor of education, questioned the adequacy of present national policy in an address prepared for the American Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO) convention.

"For too long we have charted a federal course in education without a compass," Dr. Hunt said. "Where we are going and how and what means the government intends to get there should be the concern of every American."

Dr. Hunt said the government appropriates $2 billion a year for 300 education programs but that a cohesive plan or policy is lacking.

He asked the teachers union to propose to President Kennedy the naming of a commission of laymen and professional educators to map a future program.

He said such a program could help meet needs of the year 2,000, when America's population will have doubled, according to predictions, and her school and college enrollment will total 85 million.

"I can think of no action this convention could initiate that would be as far reaching in significance," he said.

Dr. Hunt, former school superintendent in Chicago and Kansas City and former U.S. undersecretary of education, was principal speaker at the federation's first convention session.

Declares U. S. Defenseless From Space

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., said today the United States stands defenseless against attacks that could come from orbiting Soviet space vehicles.

By placing the major emphasis of its space efforts on scientific exploration and civilian applications, it may be offering the Soviet Union the opportunity of "an enormous and possibly insurmountable military advantage," Cannon said in a speech prepared for Senate delivery.

"I see no evidence that there is a national, authoritative intent to accelerate the earliest practicable development of urgently needed military (space) capabilities," he said.

"Where, for example, is the necessary project to develop a means of intercepting, inspecting, and destroying, if necessary, hostile satellites that could bear super megaton bombs down on us?" Cannon, a brigadier general and jet pilot in the Air Force Reserve, said that such a development program, though advocated by the military services, has been specifically delayed by civilian officials.

"To the best of my knowledge," Cannon said, "no defense whatever exists at this time against any military attack that might be made from the space region even though such attacks are within the present capability of the Soviet Union."

Some 950 miles of microfilm were used to record information about 180 million persons and 53 million households in the 1960 U. S. census.

Airline to Resume Full Service

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Strike-bound Eastern Air Lines went ahead today with plans to resume full service by Sept. 13 amid threats of pressure by other unions in the strike by flight engineers.

The machinists Transport Workers of America, all AFL-CIO members, threatened joint action against Eastern.

Airline President Malcolm McIntyre, after announcing the planned resumption of full service, brushed off the threats saying, "I've known pressure. If the machinists strike, we would have no alternative but to get an injunction."

The airline plans to resume what McIntyre called a full schedule on a streamlined basis with service not expected to be on the same level as before the June 23 strike.

Eastern is bargaining individually with the Flight Engineers International Association, in addition to accepting pilots' bids and outside applications to fill the engineer vacancies.

The strike, which McIntyre said had been costing EAL $250,000 daily, erupted over whether pilots or engineers would fill the third seat in the cockpit when jetliner crews were reduced from four.

Husband Finds In-Laws Termites

By HELE WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I'm a married man of 35 who loves his wife and children but as for my in-laws—God help me! They are termites, always boring from within, ever trying to make hollow mockery of our marriage, and it's been so from the very day we married five years ago.

My mother-in-law began at the wedding reception with a crack about the number of girls in my bachelor life.

"What I've heard about you!" she smirked, raising her glass of champagne to toast us. "The original get-around boy. Better keep an eye on him!" she warned my bride with a Cassandra smile.

And so it's been ever since, always tearing down, never building up. My father-in-law, though a nice enough guy, always believes the last person to get in the last word — that's my mother-in-law. While I'm no saint and had my fling as a single man, that phase of my life is definitely past. But to hear my wife's parents talk, you'd think I am the Lothario of our town.

They have soured my wife on the idea of giving me a chance to talk this thing out with her, she flounced off to Mama with the kids every time we have a spat. Whatever shall I do?

Worried and Confused Husband
Dear Dorothy: Take heart! You're not alone in your misery! Statistics reveal in-laws to be the principal cause of all divorces in America.

In Europe, where I've been studying problems of the home for the past three months, the situation is quite different. Among the many families to whom I've talked, the policy was live and let live. Being an older civilization, people have long since learned that young couples must learn to mother (with the help of your principal cause of all divorces in America).

Your problem is to get your wife to sit down and talk things out. Since it appears impossible to communicate with her by word of mouth, try writing a letter and if it turns into a love letter, so much the better.

Don't be afraid to say how much she means to you. Implore her, for the sake of this deep love, to look to you and not her parents, for the security she seeks. Say that by rushing home to them she remains a child instead of the mature woman you thought her to be. Emphasize that you're willing to meet her more than half way but—no outside interference, please!

State Income Rise Highest, Still Low

WASHINGTON (AP)—Between 1960 and 1961, Arkansas showed a per capita income rise of eight per cent, four times the national average, the Commerce Department reported Sunday.

The eight per cent increase was the highest in the country, per capita-wise, and placed Arkansas ahead of South Carolina and Mississippi.

Last year Arkansas was only in front of Mississippi.

Arkansas' per capita income during the period rose from $1,337 in 1960 to $1,446 last year. The national average, a two per cent hike, was from $2,215 to $2,263.

The Commerce Department noted that substantial increases or decreases occurred because of fluctuations in farm income and durable goods production.

Arkansas' progress paralleled that of the southern and western trend of immunity to economic fluctuations, the department said. The Arkansas showing bettered that of any other of the 11 states grouped in the southeast.

Kentucky was second to Arkansas in the group with a six per cent increase, followed by North Carolina and Mississippi, five per cent; Virginia, three per cent; Georgia and Alabama, two per cent; West Virginia and Louisiana, one per cent; and Florida, unchanged.

The highest per capita income, $3,124, up four per cent, was reported by the District of Columbia.

Stalinists Booted by Hungary Reds

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Matyas Rakosi, Hungary's former dictator, and 24 of his Stalinist followers have been booted from the Communist party in a purge of the purgers. Karoly Kiss, regarded as the leading Stalinist still in an important position in Hungary, also was demoted from the ruling Politburo.

The new purge was announced in a communiqué Sunday following a four-day meeting of the party's Central Committee. Janos Kadar, the party chief and premier who was jailed in one of Rakosi's purges, presided.

The expulsions from the party were ordered six years after the 1956 Hungarian revolt threatened to topple the Communist regime which Rakosi established with his boasted salami slicing tactics.

Expelled from the party along with Rakosi, 70, was Ernoe Geroc, 63, who succeeded him as the country's boss. During the 1956 revolt, Geroc followed his former chief into exile in the Soviet Union. He was allowed to return to Hungary last year but was barred from political activity.

Rakosi is believed still to be in the Soviet Union. He is reported in poor health.

His expulsion from the party was a bitter finish to a lifetime career spent in the service of communism. Returning to Hungary with the Soviet army in 1945, he took over the interior ministry and police and began a campaign of undermining his Socialist and band 15. Last month we borrowed a friend's car and eloped to Connecticut where we were secretly married. Our baby will be born next February.

My mother knows nothing of this. To all intent and purpose I am still an innocent young girl living at home with respectable and loving parents. Loving them in return, I am very unhappy. To make matters worse, they bitterly opposed the boy I married, he being quite wild.

It was his wildness plus their opposition and my lack of knowledge about the facts of life which sent me headlong into this marriage. How can I tell my mother?

A Little Older and Far Wiser
Dear Little: The best school is that of experience. Dig a hole, fall in, then dig your way out.

You've begun pretty young in life, which makes your situation doubly tragic but there is a way out and up — provided you have the guts.

The first step is to tell your parents the truth; the second to equip yourself to be a wife and mother (with the help of your school counselor), if you want to keep the baby and remain married.

Since you are both far below legal age and your husband wild, annulment might be the answer, with the baby placed for adoption. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for a list of homes for unwed mothers. Despite the fact you are married, these people could help you.

Miss Dimple Elaine Burks

The engagement and approach marriage of Miss Dimple Elaine Burks to Dr. Jack Lee Royal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Royal of Lonoke, is announced by her parents, Rev. and Mrs. W. R. Burks of Hope, formerly of Lonoke.

The wedding is planned for late August in the Lonoke Methodist Church.

Miss Burks, a graduate of Lonoke High School, received her B. A. Degree from Hendrix College, Conway, where she received the title, Hendrix Beauty, served as a counselor of the sophomore class and was a member of Kappa Iota, and was a member of Kappa Iota, hospital in Memphis, Tenn.

Dr. Royal, also a graduate of Lonoke High School, received his premedical training at Ouachita Baptist College, Arkadelphia, and is a graduate of the University of Arkansas School of Medicine. At OBC, he was a member of Alpha Chi, Gamma Sigma Epsilon and Phi Chi, honorary fraternities.

Dr. Royal is presently serving his internship at Baptist Memorial Hospital in Memphis, Tenn.

New Soviet Test Is Reported

UPPSALA, Sweden (AP)—A new Soviet nuclear test was reported today by the Seismological Institution at Uppsala University. The explosion, in the atmosphere, was registered at 4:02 a.m. EST and located in the Novaya Zemlya area, where the Soviets recently have been testing.

Uppsala scientists estimated the latest blast to be about 12 megatons, equivalent to explosion of 12 million tons of TNT.

Arkansans Honored

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—A Lt. Rucker, Ala., airfield will be named in honor of Lt. Russell Shell of Jonesboro, who was killed in Tunisia during World War II. Dedication ceremonies for the field were scheduled today. The new field is a training base for Army liaison pilots. Shell was an air observation pilot. He was a native of Franklin located in Izard County and graduated from Arkansas State College.

Smallholders party colleagues in the postwar government. His method, he said, was to "demand a little more each day, like cutting up salami, thin slice after thin slice."

The other parties eventually, were ousted. Rakosi and Geroc were expelled from the party because of their "absolute political responsibility or the miscarriages of justice based on forged evidence," the communiqué said. Twenty-three others dropped from the party were not named.

A 2-Minute Story

THE INHERITANCE

By HARRIET TEMAINÉ

First there had been a long run of bad luck and now things were taking a turn for the better. The letter might be, either one.

It came several weeks after the men were laid off at the plant. After the layoff came rumors that new machinery would replace others. Ezra Cander had been a good machinist, but so were the men who lost their jobs.

Then Ezra's father had gone to the hospital. There had been orthodontia for Lucy, repair bills on the old car, and house bills. Finally Ezra's father had died. Ezra's wife Suellen had received the call at the dinner hour.

"The nurse called, Ezra," she said. "Dad never awakened from his afternoon nap."

Ezra was silent. The news was a shock, but death had come peacefully. It was the worst blow in the long run of bad luck.

After the funeral Ezra discovered that he had inherited more than his father's blue eyes, curly brown hair and gentle disposition. The old man had a savings account of about $3,500. His parents had never spent more than they made. After paying all the hospital expenses there was $2,700 left!

Then came more good luck -- for bad luck never lasts forever. The management announced that a shorter work week would go into effect, and no more men would be laid off. It was less pay, but Ezra knew that he'd make it now.

Then the letter. It was a long envelope with the name of Luke Cander above the return address. Ezra's own last name, but Ezra knew of no Lukes in the family. He opened the letter and read. Luke Cander, who lived in another part of the city, had seen the death notice in the newspaper. He wondered if Ezra's father had been a history professor and if Ezra's mother's name had been Elizabeth. If so, then Luke Cander was a distant cousin, who, through the years, had drawn apart from the family. Luke was interested in knowing about Ezra and expressed hope that they might meet.

The Canders were curious. Suellen even more than Ezra, although the long lost cousin was Ezra's relative rather than hers. He was a cousin, for Ezra's father had been a history professor and his mother's name had been Elizabeth.

"It's a little late for renewing ties," Ezra said softly.

"You know how sentimental old people can be," Suellen replied. "Let's ask him to come over Sunday afternoon."

And Luke Cander had visited them. He was elderly, and pleasant, but very, very nosy. When he left late that Sunday afternoon, Suellen spoke her mind.

"Can you beat it? The impudence of that old man. All he wanted to know was how much you inherited."

"He certainly did pry, didn't he? Apparently, he and Dad were never very close. But he spent enough time telling us about his business acumen, and how Dad should have gone into business as he had done rather than to 'eke out a living' as a history instructor," Ezra answered with some amusement.

The old man later made a few attempts towards intimacy, but Ezra could feel nothing towards him. Suellen actually resented him. With no misgivings the long lost relative was soon forgotten.

It was spring. The plant was back on a full-time schedule. The orthodontist was pleased with Lucy's progress. Ezra had made three payments on a new car. Suellen had a dryer and a brand new bedroom set as well. And there was still a little money in the bank!

Ezra relaxed over a second cup of coffee and continued reading the newspaper. Suddenly, he stiffened, then his hands began to shake, sweat bubbles broke out on his face. He shut his eyes tight, opened them again, and re-read the item:

WIDOWER DIES
Luke Cander, proprietor of an antique shop on lower Dune Avenue, died yesterday leaving an estimated estate of $50,000. Stating in his will that he had been unable to locate any living relatives either deserving or in need of this inheritance, the estate was to be equally divided between the City Art Museum and the Art Department of the City College.

Walnut Ridge in Legion Finals

HELENA, Ark. (AP) - A victory tonight by Walnut Ridge, Ark., means the championship in the Region 4 American Legion baseball tournament, but a loss to New Orleans would require a playoff.

Walnut Ridge, the only undefeated team in the double elimination tournament which began last Thursday, already has downed New Orleans once.

New Orleans gained a chance at the title yesterday Sunday by clubbing Austin, Tex., 10-4 in a wide open ball game.

The Louisianians' clobbered losing pitcher Almador Alvarez for nearly a dozen hits, including eight for extra bases.

Alvarez was tagged for all 10 New Orleans runs.

Charles Grey and George Brook-er each slugged two triples while teammates Gerald Landry, David Fletcher and Larry Schneider each doubled, Schneider twice.

Austin joined Memphis and Jackson, Miss., the defending Region 4 champion, in being eliminated.

Power, Speed, Hurling Keep Dodgers Going

Yanks Go Wild to Rout Kansas City by 21-7

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Speed, power and pitching have kept the Los Angeles Dodgers on top of the National League standings.

These three important factors stood out like the Empire State Building Sunday as the Dodgers came from behind with a five-run explosion in the ninth inning to defeat the Cincinnati Reds 5-1 and stretch their first-place lead over San Francisco to 3½ games.

The Giants, only a game and a half behind last Thursday, were beaten 13-6 by Milwaukee for their fourth loss in the last five games. St. Louis inflicted the 10th straight loss upon the New York Mets, 10-5 and Philadelphia edged Pittsburgh 3-2. The Chicago Cubs shaded Houston 4-3.

The New York Yankees pounded Kansas City pitching for 20 hits and a 21-7 triumph to maintain their 4½ game American League bulge over Los Angeles, a 5-2 victory over Washington. Minnesota swept a doubleheader from Boston 4-2 and 7-4 and Baltimore ripped Cleveland 6-5. The Chicago White Sox and Detroit Tigers split. The White Sox won the first game 11-5 and the Tigers took the second 8-3.

Held to five hits through eight innings by Joey Jay, the Dodgers chased the Reds' right-hander in the ninth and continued their assault on southpaw Jim Henry to score five hits on two home runs, two bunt singles, a walk and a sacrifice.

Frank Howard opened with a game-tying home run, his 21st of the season. John Roseboro walked. Don Drysdale sacrificed. Maury Wills beat out a bunt single. Exit Jay, center Henry. Jim Gilliam beat out a bunt single, scoring Roseboro to put the Dodgers in front 2-1. Willie Davis hit a three-run homer, his 17th of the year, to make it 5-1.

Henry Aaron smashed his 32nd and 33rd home runs in the Braves' triumph over the Giants. The slugging outfielder, in basking his average to .342, third highest in the league, ran his hitting streak through 19 consecutive games. Willie McCovey had two homers for the Giants, one off Claude Raymond, whose strong relief pitching through the final three innings sealed Tony Cloninger's fifth triumph in seven decisions. Rookie shortstop Dal Maxvill drove in three runs with his first major league home run and Ken Boyer had a double, two singles and two walks in the Cards' third straight victory over the Mets. Relief artist Lindy McDaniel, in his first start, went eight innings for his third triumph in 10 decisions.

Reuben Amaro's run-scoring single in the ninth snapped a 2-2 tie between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, giving the Phils' Chris Short his seventh victory against as many defeats. Elroy Pace, in relief, was tagged with the loss, his fourth in 12 decisions.

The Cubs regained eighth place

Most every kid learns, at one time or another, that when you are playing with the big boys, you don't want to make 'em mad.

The old lesson was impressed on the Kansas City Athletics Sunday. The A's had the temerity to take two of three from the New York Yankees, the biggest kid on the block.

The Yankee retribution was swift, painful and a little humiliating.

They punished the reeling A's with a 20-hit attack, including four doubles, two triples and four home runs, which adds to 40 total bases, in a 21-7 rout. It was the Yankees biggest offensive display of the season.

Mickey Mantle and Elston Howard were the chief tormentors of the A's, accounting for a whopping 15 runs batted in between them. The pair had three home runs, a triple, double and two singles and Mantle stole two bases.

Even with that awesome showing, however, the Yanks had to content themselves with the same leading margin, 4½ games, over the stubborn Los Angeles Angels. The Angels kept pace with a 5-2 verdict over Washington. Third-place Minnesota closed to within six games by sweeping two from Boston, 4-2 and 7-4. Baltimore beat Cleveland 6-5.

Detroit and the Chicago White Sox split a couple. The White Sox score five hits on two home runs, two bunt singles, a walk and a sacrifice.

In the National League, Los Angeles increased its lead to 3½ games by beating Cincinnati 5-1 while Milwaukee knocked off the second-place San Francisco Giants 13-6. St. Louis whipped the New York Mets 10-5, Philadelphia edged Pittsburgh 3-2 and Chicago's Cubs outlasted Houston 4-3 in the others.

The Angels used a four-run burst after two were out in the sixth inning to beat Washington. A double by Albie Pearson and singles by Leon Wagner and Bob Rodgers got one. Felix Torres doubled in two more and scored the other on Jim Fregosi's single. Rookie Dean Chance (11-7) threw a solid five-hitter for the victory. Jim Kaat's five-hit pitching and Harmon Killebrew's hefty hitting were the keys to Minnesota's sweep over the Red Sox. Kaat's pitching kept Boston in check in the first game while Killebrew drove in four runs on a homer and double in the second. The homer was his 32nd, tying him with Detroit's Norm Cash for the league lead, and he took over the top spot in runs batted in with 91. Charley Maxwell, one of base-

by belting the Colts, behind Bob Anderson's tight relief pitching and hefty hitting by George Altman. Anderson replaced Bob Buhl in the eighth with two runs in, Colts on first and third and one out and slammed the door. Altman collected four of the Cubs' ten hits and batted in two runs.

White Sox lefty Juan Pizarro, who started the second game, was clipped on his pitching hand by a line drive in the third inning. He suffered a compound dislocation of the ring finger and will be sidelined at least two weeks.

Two-run homers by Jim Gentile and Whitey Herzog and a bases-stop Woody Held featured Baltimore's triumph over the Indians. The homers had pulled the Orioles

Young Girls Set Records in Swim Meet

By CHARLES CHAMBERLIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Seldom has the resurgence of athletic youth been so underlined than by the complete stranglehold clamped on the National Senior Women's AAU Swimming Championships by a brigade of bobby-soxers.

A pair of 16-year-olds from Los Angeles, Carolyn House and Sharon Finneran, and 15-year-old Donna DeVarona of Santa Clara, Calif., led the record-busting parade in the 4-day meet which ended Sunday in the Portage Park 50 meter Olympic pool.

This trio, plus a group just as young that either won events or were pressing or first all the time, can make Uncle Sam rub his hands in glee at the women's prospects in the 1964 Olympics in Tokyo.

Five world, five American and two additional meet records were undercut in the splash party. Only two events—the 100 meter backstroke and 100 meter freestyle—did not produce record efforts.

Miss House won the freestyle titles at distances of 1500, 400 and 200 meters, repeating as individual high point performer with 26.10.2.6 in the 1500 with 13:44.6; erased the American record of 2:15.5 with 2:14.6 in the 200, and matched the meet mark of 4:46.9

Bobcats Start Practice, 17 Veterans Back

By VINCE FOSTER
Hope Star Sports Writer

Along with 150 other Arkansas high school teams, the Hope Bobcats opened their practice sessions for the 1962 football season today. Approximately 55 sophomores, juniors and seniors reported for practice this morning.

From all reports this season promises to be a good one, and the Cats seem to have the spirit to make it so. Some sources pick Hope to take the 4AA championship, even though they ended up in the cellar last season. The main reason for this high rating is the fact that Head Coach John Pierce has 17 returning lettermen, seven of whom were starters. Unlike last year, experienced is not one of Coach Pierce's standing problems.

Among the senior standouts are David Porterfield, shifty and speedy halfback; Charles Beggs, 165 pound guard; Kendall Youm and Charles Beyerley, beefy tackles, who weigh in at 215 and 210 respectively. Junior center Dan Jones, 195 pound husky, is building his reputation also.

The Bobcats have better equipment this year than ever before. Among the new articles are shoes, shoulder pads, game jerseys and pants, and a modern seven man sled.

All in all the situation looks bright, but it's up to the Cats to get ready for their opening game with the Texarkana Razorbacks there Sept. 7th. The practices are at 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.

America's oldest stakes race. "I really didn't know who won it," said Manny Ycaza on Ridan. "I felt I had him right on the wire, but it sure was close," agreed Willie Shoemaker aboard Jaipur.

As it was, Shoemaker had Jaipur's head down while Ridan's was up, about the only difference in the $82,650 race. The time of 2:01 3-5 clipped a fifth of a second off the stakes record set in 1920 by the immortal Man o' War and equaled the track mark.

The victory virtually nailed down the 3-year-old championship for Jaipur, a dark, handsome son of Nasrullah owned by George D. Widner. It was his fourth straight victory, preceded by the Jersey Derby, Belmont Stakes and Choice Stakes.

The $53,722.50 winners share pushed his yearly earnings to $360,937, tops in all divisions, while his lifetime earnings are all year. "Nothing but a sprinter," scoffed his critics.

But Ridan stayed with Jaipur the mile and a quarter of the and the Arlington Classic, was Travers with only inches separating them at the end. They broke from the gate together and no more than a head ever separated them in the 93rd running of

La Grone and Smith Play for Title

Jim Smith and Mitch LaGrone will meet in an 18-hole match Sunday for the Hope Country Club Golf championship.

Smith advanced to the finals by defeating Charles Carver after trailing the first nine holes. LaGrone defeated Jack McClendon 5 and 3.

David Waddle downed Maurice Sagely of Lewisville one up to win the first flight. Waddle had gone into the finals by defeating Roger Smith 4 & 3.

In the second flight, Jimmy Jones defeated Lloyd Leverett one up in 30 holes and will meet Sammy Strong who ousted Roy Taylor 5 & 4.

Bill Gunter and Jimmy Pilkinton will tangle in the third flight. Gunter defeated Malcolm Porterfield 2 & 1 and Pilkinton downed Buck Williams one up.

In the fourth flight Frank Coleman beat Herbert Burns 8 & 7 and John Hatley eliminated John Beatty 6 & 5. Coleman and Hatley will meet in the finals.

In the fifth flight Terry Hair defeated E. P. Young Sr. while Kinard Young defeated Lee Fenwick and William Walden. Hair and Young go into the finals.

Jaipur Wins Over Ridan at Travers

By The Associated Press

Jaipur won it, but the Travers Stakes served as the vindication of the "sprinter" Ridan.

"If anybody ever says that Ridan can't go a mile and a quarter again, they'll get some argument from me," said Ridan's trainer, Leroy Jolley, after Jaipur's paper-thin victory at Saratoga Saturday.

That's the stigma under which Mrs. Moody Jolley's colt has run all year. "Nothing but a sprinter," scoffed his critics.

But Ridan stayed with Jaipur the mile and a quarter of the and the Arlington Classic, was Travers with only inches separating them at the end. They broke from the gate together and no more than a head ever separated them in the 93rd running of
